

I felt harassed by telemarketers before Indiana's Privacy Law took effect. I received several calls each day and actually stopped answering my phone unless I recognized the caller. This practice caused me to miss important calls, but was a better alternative than listening to sales pitches all day. Please do not make any changes that would lessen the impact of Indiana's Privacy Law.